Extra-Studies, Vacations, &c.

Declamation in addition to the exercises in Elocution before the respective Instructors of each class, the Senior Class, in succession (four each week) declaim before the whole College, after evening prayers, and twelve (four from each of the three lower classes) speak every Wednesday afternoon.

EXTRA STUDIES. Any students who wish to pursue Mathematical studies beyond the required course, receive private instruction from the Professor in that department. Assistance is likewise furnished to all who wish to obtain a knowledge of the Hebrew, French, German, Spanish and Italian languages. And for the acquisition of any of these languages, as well as for classical and philological pursuits generally, great facilities are furnished by a free access to a Philological Library, which is open an hour every day, under the superintendence of the Professor of Languages or some other officer.

EXAMINATIONS. All the classes are carefully examined, twice a year, before the whole Faculty, a Committee of the Corporation, and such other gentlemen as are disposed to attend; and the Seniors are particularly examined on the various branches of their College studies, six weeks before Commencement.

EXHIBITIONS. One for the Junior Class, on the last Wednesday in November; and one for the Senior Class, on the evening of the same day.—Exercises in Elocution for the Parkerian Prizes, on the evening preceding the annual Commencement.

VACATIONS. The first, four weeks from Commencement the second, seven weeks from the first Wednesday in January; the third, two weeks from the third Wednesday in May.

LECTURES. In the course of the four years, Lectures with appropriate experiments, are given on Natural Philosophy, Chemistry, and Natural History.

Every student, who enters to an advanced standing, (except from another College.) is required to pay an Entrance Fee of five dollars, if his admission be after the close of the second quarter of the Freshman year, and before the close of the second quarter of the Sophomore year; and ten dollars, if at a later period of College life.

N. B. The usual expenses of a liberal education are very much diminished by the ample library of the Beneficent Society; from which indigent students are gratuitously furnished with text books; and other students, at a small expense.

To prevent unnecessary expenses, as well as for other important purposes, it is recommended that every student from a distance, especially if young, should be placed under the particular patronage of some gentleman in Middlebury, who will attend to the appropriation of his money.
